CAMPTON.

Mrs. A. C. Kash, who has been very poorly for some time, is improving slowly.

S. H. Kash, of Corbin, a revenue man for the state-at-large, is attending court here.

It is worthy of mention that there has been very little drunkenness and disorder at this term of court. The people seem to be united in a common fight against the sale of whisky and all kinds of lawlessness.

The case against Clarence Lindon, colored, charged with killing Desko Adams, also colored, was called for trial Saturday, but as some of the witnesses failed to appear was passed until Wednesday of this week.

Mack Whisman, who was indicted at the present term of court for the murder of Golf Profit, came in Thursday and surrendered to the authorities and is now in jail. The killing took place Easter Sunday of this year. Profit was shot from ambush. It has not been determined whether the case will be tried this term or not.

The close of the first week of the present term of court shows that the whisky men have not been forgotten, neither before the grand jury nor the trial jurors. Up to recently there has been what is called a "beer club" in Campton, which was formed only to evade the law. This club is now completely broken up. The president is now in jail under fines aggregating $280; another member was fined $225, and still another, who was arrested and escaped from the sheriff, was fined $275 and 80 days in jail. More than a dozen indictments were returned against each of these three men. The whisky men from all parts of the county were remembered with similar punishments. The rule has been adopted by the Commonwealth's Attorney Kash and County Attorney Stamper that no compromise is to be tolerated, but on the other hand there is to be no let up on the prosecutions, and every one convicted will be required to pay every dollar of fine or go to jail. The firmness and earnestness of Judge Adams and the prosecuting attorneys in handling these cases will no doubt soon wipe out whisky selling in Wolfe county.

May 10. RAMBLER.

Won't Slight a Good Friend.

"If ever I need a cough medicine again I know what to get," declares Mrs. A. L. Alley of Beale, Mo., "for, after using ten bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, and seeing its excellent results in my own family and others, I am convinced it is the best medicine made for coughs, colds and lung trouble." Every one who tries it feels just that way. Relief is felt at once and its quick cure surprises you. For bronchitis, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, la grippe, sore throat, pain in chest or lungs it's supreme. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all dealers.

HALFWAY.

Clay Wilson and D. W. Davis left Monday for Perry county to buy a bunch of cattle.

The recent storm did much damage to the crops, land and fences on Harlan Nickell's place.

Harlan Nickell and son, Mort, last Friday hauled a large veranda pattern for Harry Nickell to Sam Candel's place on Licking river.

Richard Teaster made his regular visit to Murphy Fork last Sunday. He likes that locality. The writer thinks he is after some "love-dovey" there.

Mrs. Eliza Arnett, of Montgomery county, who has been visiting her father on Gillmore for six months past, also a visitor of Harlan Nickell and wife, left for her home Wednesday last.

Mrs. Cora Nickell was the happy recipient of a handsome dress the other day. It is of the Swazette fashion and makes an elegant costume. Mrs. America Nickell, her mother-in-law, was the expert seamstress, and the dress will be worn for the first time to the big show at Cannel City next week.

Sam Wilson last Friday finished painting the new home of Harlan Nickell. It is one of the finest houses in this vicinity, being a nine-room dwelling with a double veranda in front. The interior is oak with hard oil finish. The whole structure was planned by Mrs. America Nickell, and she is now the jolliest woman in the section.

Happy and singing all the day. Because everything has come her way. May 10. POET.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHERRY & CO., TOLEDO, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

LACY CREEK.

Green Lacy, who has been sick for some time, is improving.

W. S. Trimble, H. B. James and J. H. Trimble went to Campton on some legal business Saturday.

Mrs. George Beasley and little son, Lemon, visited her mother, Mrs. Ira Wells, from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor Center and little son, Lona, of your town, were guests of her father, Newton Maloney, and family over Sunday.

J. B. Hollon bought of S. R. Perkins about 75,000 feet of hickory timber, which H. F. Haney will saw into shafts and single-trees.

Mrs. Southey Lacy returned Thursday from Stanton, where she had been to see her father, who is very sick. She reports him no better.

J. C. Trimble went out the other morning and found that his favorite dog had got a dose of poison. He gave him all the attention he could, but the dog died.

James M. Beatty, while ripping some hickory timber into buggy shafts, at H. F. Haney's mill, in some way let the saw strike the guage he was using and hitting him in the side came very near killing him. Jim says he was lucky it did not strike him in the face as it might have spoiled his beauty.

As an all-round laxative tonic and health-builder no other pills can compare with Dr. King's New Life Pills. They tone and regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, strengthen the nerves, cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, jaundice, headache, chills and malaria. Try them. 25c at all dealers.

LEE CITY.

Mrs. Ellen Craig and sister took dinner with Mrs. J. H. Dunn last Friday.

J. H. Dunn has improved the looks of his yard by having a new paling fence put around it.

The son of R. A. Dunn, who had the misfortune of having his toe cut off by a train, is getting along very nicely.

Nearly everybody in this section has been attending Circuit court at Campton. Those who had no cases made cases for others.

Fifteen men from John A. Graham & Co.'s mill passed through en route to Campton, where they are to appear before the grand jury.

Born, to the wife of Richard Merida, a boy; to the wife Charles Patrick, a 10-pound girl, and to the wife of Green Brier, a seven-pound girl.

Lee City baseball team crossed bats with the Hazel Green boys Saturday and the game resulted in a defeat for the H. G. boys. They did not need any blueing when the game was over, as the Hazel Green boys furnished "blue" enough.

May 10. LILLIE.

Valentine Brewer and wife, of Pine Ridge, are visiting relatives on Stillwater.

M. C. Kinley and General Tyra, of Holly, were guests of D. B. Tyra and family Sunday night.

It was rumored here that a man was stabbed at Pine Ridge Saturday evening, but did not learn the particulars.

Reva Willis Lykins and Henry Barker, both of Grassy creek, attended the meeting on Stillwater Saturday and Sunday.

Last Sunday was the regular time set apart by the Baptist church for communion and foot-washing at Stillwater, and a good congregation participated.

S. H. Rose, postmaster, informs your correspondent that this will be a money order office beginning June 1. This is a convenience which has long been needed at this place.

Joseph A. Rose and son, Dewey, and John H. Rose, wife and daughter, of Hazel Green; D. B. Tyra and son, Erna; George Buchanan and son, William; Valentine Brewer, wife and daughter, and S. N. Osborne were guests of S. H. Rose and family Sunday.

In the lower Calaboose neighborhood, last Saturday, Bill Trent, aged 82, shot and perhaps fatally wounded Abe Brown. Deputy Sheriff Walter Oliver and T. F. Stamper arrested Trent and took him to Campton jail to await results. Trent cast his first vote, sixty-one years ago, for Zachariah Taylor for president. Abe Brown is a brother of Dodd Brown, of Rogers.

The initial number of the National Monthly has been received at this office, and after a careful perusal of its contents we are compelled to say that it is the best exponent of national politics which has come to our notice. It is edited and published by Norman E. Mack, at Buffalo, N. Y., and he has a corps of contributors embracing the most prominent politicians and best writers of the country. Mr. Mack, himself, from the wide experience he has had in the Democratic party, the principles of which he is to expound in a magazine, and we expect that it will do much to harmonize and educate the party.

Kentucky Crop Report.

Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin gave out the department's report on crop conditions May 1. It says:

Much rain has fallen during the month, causing much damage in many sections of the state.

Hemp looks well and promises a large crop. Some large growers are planting a larger crop than ever before.

Fruit has been damaged in some localities, especially peaches, cherries and plums, but there is a good prospect for a large crop of apples and grapes.

The prospect for the oats crop is better than at this time last year.

An unusually large crop of tobacco is promised, exceeding almost all records, especially in this so in regard to the burley tobacco. About an average crop of dark tobacco will be planted. Tobacco plants are not far advanced as they should be on account of so much cool weather.

Live stock are in fairly good condition, and a decrease of cattle and hogs are shown on account of high prices of feed. An increase of sheep is shown in many counties of the state.

A large corn crop will be planted, due in a large measure to the farmers using pure-bred seed corn.

There is a small acreage of rye and barley grown in the state and both are looking fairly good.

Clover is in poor condition. Alfalfa looks well and the acreage is being increased throughout the entire state.

BELVA, OKLA.

James Dean spent Sunday with Mr. Hastings and family.

A revival meeting will commence in this community May 9.

Bro. C. D. Mead took dinner with W. P. Creech and family.

Otha Tutt and wife are working at the Gyp quarry at present.

Robert Dolphin was entertained by Miss Cora Hastings Sunday evening.

Claude Keath was entertained by Miss Viola Robinson Sunday evening.

Allie Long purchased a store building and lot from Jess Hawkins recently.

The quarterly conference of the M. E. church was held at West Creek May 2.

Miss Viola Robinson, who has been working at the Gyp quarry for the past few weeks, is at home now.

The farmers of this community are busy planting and replanting their corn, broom corn and kafir corn.

Mrs. Grayson and family and Mrs. Harmon and family spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Reece.

Charles Parker was seen going in the direction of Belva Sunday evening. Wonder if there isn't some attraction for him in that small town.

May 10. FIREFLY.

CONSOLATION.

Clay Cecil attended court at Campton part of last week.

John Pieratt, of Winchester, was in our neighborhood recently on business.

Mort Wilson and John Brewer, of near Daysboro, passed through here en route to Hazel Green on business.

Willis Lykins and Henry Barker, of near Daysboro, passed through here en route to Stillwater to attend church.

Seborn Walters recently bought two hogs and one calf from Bob Brooks, of near Hazel Green, but we did not learn the price.

Clay Cecil has been in the trading line for a few days. He recently bought two nice hogs from Sam Kash, of Hazel Green, but the writer failed to hear the price.

May 10. GUESS.

MURPHY FORK.

Mort Cecil made a hurried trip to Lee City Sunday.

Malvin Tackett has moved from the J. S. Pieratt farm to Greenbriar.

Hiram Greer, of Ezel, visited his granddaughter, Mrs. Lizzie Murphy, over Sunday.

Rollie Cecil and wife, of near Gillmore, were guests of Ben Murphy and wife recently.

Henry Murphy and wife were called Sunday to the bedside of Mrs. Kelse Couch, on Fill's branch, who is worse.

Mrs. Nannie Hurt left Thursday to visit her son, Cecil, at Greenbriar, who, of late, has been in very bad health.

A gloomy shadow hangs over the dear old mansion on the hill. Henry Lawson has gone and taken quarters on J. S. Pieratt's farm.

Sunday school at Public Square school house every Sunday afternoon, Joseph Estep conducting. Also preaching every 4th Sunday.

Jack Frakes, the prophet, is holding his job down o. k. on Ben Murphy's farm. Jack is spotting his eyes on a charming widow and sailing ahead of his rival at every move.

Jim Williams, of White Oak, stopped at the home of Ben Murphy Friday night. He brought 54 hogs with him and left them, which signifies that the cattle king bought the entire outfit.

The writer noticed that Ben Murphy has not yet torn down the National Hotel, which is located on the farm recently purchased by him. But it will have to come down sooner or later so as to make room for more grass.

Big John Murphy is working on his farm every day like a tiger. He claims it is the best way of reducing flesh, but Ben Murphy says the surest way would be to join the Democratic ranks then the flesh would come down to a focus itself.

Two model young men from a little distance were on this creek Sunday and mingled with our pretty belles. They left for home feeling that they had made a good selection, and they had. Come again, boys, and you will be the winners.

"Polly of the Circus" next week.

THE GUILTY PARTY.

By O. HENRY.

(Copyright, 1900, by S. S. McClure Co.)

A RED haired, unshaven, untidy man sat in a rocking chair by a window. He had just lighted a pipe and was puffing blue clouds with great satisfaction. He had removed his shoes and donned a pair of blue, faded carpet slippers. With the morbid thirst of the confirmed daily news drinker, he awkwardly folded back the pages of an evening paper, eagerly gulping down the strong, black headlines, to be followed as a chaser by the milder details of the smaller type.

In an adjoining room a woman was cooking supper. Odors from strong bacon and boiling coffee contended against the cut plug fumes from the vesterine pipe.

Outside was one of those crowded streets of the east side in which at twilight falls Satan sets up his recruiting office. A mighty host of children danced and ran and played in the street. Above the playground forever hovered a great bird. The bird was known to humorists as the stork. But the people of Chrystie street were better ornithologists. They called it a vulture.

A little girl of twelve came up timidly to the man reading and resting by the window and said:

"Papa, won't you play a game of checkers with me if you aren't too tired?"

The red haired, unshaven, untidy man sitting shoeless by the window answered, with a frown:

"Checkers! No! I won't. Can't a man who works hard all day have a little rest when he comes home? Why don't you go out and play with the other kids on the sidewalk?"

The woman who was cooking came to the door.

"John," she said, "I don't like for Lizzie to play in the street. They learn too much there that ain't good for 'em. She's been in the house all day long. It seems that you might give up a little of your time to amuse her when you come home."

"Let her go out and play like the rest of 'em if she wants to be amused," said the red haired, unshaven, untidy man, "and don't bother me."

"You're on," said Kid Mullaly. "Fifty dollars to $25 I take Annie to the dance. Put up."

The Kid's black eyes were snapping with the fire of the baited and challenged. He drew out his "roll" and slapped five tens upon the bar. The three or four young fellows who were thus "taken" more slowly produced their stakes.

"And, oh, what'll be done to you'll be a plenty," said a better, with anticipatory gleam.

"That's my lookout," said the Kid sternly. "Fill 'em up all around, Mike."

After the round Burke, the Kid's sponge, sponge holder, pal, mentor and grand vizier, drew him out to the boot-black stand at the saloon corner, where all the official and important matters of the Small Hours Social club were settled.

"Cut that blond out, Kid," was his advice, "or there'll be trouble. What do you want to throw down that girl of yours for? You'll never find one that'll freeze to you like Liz has. She's worth a ball full of Annie's."

"I'm no Annie admirer!" said the Kid, dropping a cigarette ash on his polished toe and wiping it off on Tony's shoulder. "But I want to teach Liz a lesson. She thinks I belong to her. She's been bragging that I don't speak to another girl. Liz is all right in some ways. She's drinking a little too much lately. And she uses language that a lady oughtn't."

"You're engaged, ain't you?" asked Burke.

"Sure. We'll get married next year, maybe."

"I saw you make her drink her first glass of beer," said Burke. "That was two years ago, when she used to come down to the corner of Chrystie bare-headed to meet you after supper. She was a quiet sort of a kid then and couldn't speak without blushing."

"She's a little spitfire sometimes now," said the Kid. "I hate jealousy. That's why I'm going to the dance with Annie. I'll teach her some sense."

"Well, you better look a little out," were Burke's last words. "If Liz was my girl and I was to sneak out to a dance coupled up with an Annie I'd want some chain armor on under my gladsome rags, all right."

Through the land of the stork-vulture wandered Liz. Her black eyes searched the passing crowds feverily, but vaguely. Now and then she hummed bars of foolish little songs.

Liz's skirt was green silk. Her waist was a large brown and pink plaid, well fitting and not without style. She wore a cluster of rings of huge imitation rubies and a locket that banged her knees at the bottom of a silver chain. Her shoes were run down over twisted high heels and were strangers to polish. Her hat would scarcely have passed into a flour barrel.

The "family entrance" of the Blue Jay cafe received her.

"Whisky, Tommy," she said as her sisters farther uptown murmur, "Champagne, James."

"Sure, Miss Lizzie! What'll the chaser be?"

"Seltzer. And, say, Tommy, has the Kid been around today?"

"Why, no, Miss Lizzie, I haven't saw him today."

"I'm lookin' for 'm," said Liz after the chaser had spurted under her nose. "It's got to me that he says he'll take Annie Karlson to the dance. Let him. The pink eyed white rat! I'm lookin' for 'm. You know me, Tommy. Two years me and the Kid've been engaged. Look at that ring. Five hundred he said it cost. Let him take her to the dance. What'll I do? I'll cut his heart out. Another whisky, Tommy."

"I wouldn't listen to no such reports, Miss Lizzie," said the waiter smoothly from the narrow opening above his chin. "Kid Mullaly's not the guy to throw a lady like you down. Seltzer on the side?"

"Two years," repeated Liz, softening a little to sentiment under the magic of the distiller's art. "I always used to play out on the street of evenin's 'cause there was nothin' doin' for me at home. For a long time I just sat on doorsteps and looked at the lights and the people goin' by. And then the Kid came along one evenin' and sized me up, and I was mashed on the spot for fair. The first drink he made me take I cried all night at home and got a lickin' for makin' a noise. And now—say, Tommy, you ever see this Annie Karlson? If it wasn't for peroxide the chloroform limit would have put her out long ago. Oh, I'm lookin' for 'm. You tell the Kid if he comes in. Me? I'll cut his heart out. Another whisky, Tommy."

A little unsteadily, but with watchful and brilliant eyes, Liz walked up the avenue toward the Small Hours Social club.

At 9 o'clock the president, Kid Mullaly, paced upon the floor with a lady on his arm. As the Lorelei's was her hair golden. Her "yes" was softened to a "yah," but its quality of assent was patent to the most Mileian ears. She stepped upon her own train and blushed, and—she smiled into the eyes of Kid Mullaly.

And then as the two stood in the middle of the waxed floor the thing happened to prevent which many lamps are burning nightly in many studies and libraries.

Out from the circle of spectators in the hall leaped Fate in a green silk skirt under the nom de guerre of Liz. Her eyes were hard and blacker than jet. She did not scream or waver. Most unwomanly she cried out one oath, the Kid's own favorite oath and in his own deep voice, and then while the Small Hours Social club went frantically to pieces she made good her boast to Tommy, the waiter—made good as far as the length of her knife blade and the strength of her arm permitted.

Liz ran out and down the street swift and true as a woodcock flying through a grove of saplings at dusk.

And then followed the big city's biggest shame, handed down from a long ago century of the basest barbarity—the hue and cry. Nowhere but in the big cities does it survive, and here most of all, where the ultimate perfection of culture, citizenship and alleged superiority joins bawling in the chase.

They pursued, a shrieking mob of fathers, mothers, lovers and maidens, howling, yelling, calling, whistling, crying for blood.

Knowing her way and hungry for her success, she darted down the familiar ways until at last her feet struck the dull solidity of the rotting pier. And then it was but a few more panting steps, and good mother East river took Liz to her bosom, soothed her muddled, but quickly, and settled in five minutes the problem that keeps lights burning o' nights in thousand of pastarotes and colleges.

It's mighty funny what kind of dreams one has sometimes. Poets call them visions, but a vision is only a dream in blank verse. I dreamed the rest of this story.

I thought I was in the next world and there was a great crowd of us outside the courtroom where the judgments were going on. And every now and then a very beautiful and imposing court officer angel would come outside the door and call another case in a loud voice.

While I was considering my own wordly sins and wondering whether there would be any use of my trying to prove an alibi by claiming that I lived in New Jersey the balliff angel came to the door and sang out, "Case No. 99,852,743!"

Up stepped a plain clothes man—there were lots of 'em there, dressed exactly like preachers and hustling us spirits around just as cops do on earth—and by the arm he dragged—whom, do you think? Why, Liz!

The court officer took her inside and closed the door. I went up to Mr. Fly Cop and inquired about the case.

"A very sad one," says he, laying the points of his manicured fingers together—"an utterly incorrigible girl. I am special terrestrial officer, the Rev. Jones. The case was assigned to me. The girl murdered her fiancé and committed suicide. She had no defense. My report to the court relates the facts in detail, all of which are substantiated by reliable witnesses. The wages of sin is death. Praise the Lord!"

The court officer opened the door and stepped out.

"Poor girl!" said Special Terrestrial Officer the Rev. Jones, with a tear in his eye. "It was one of the saddest cases that I ever met with. Of course she was—"

"Discharged," said the court officer. "Come here, Jonesy. First thing you know you'll be switched to the people squad. How would you like to be on the missionary force in the south sea islands—hey? Now, you quit making these false arrests or you'll be transferred—see! The guilty party you've got to look for in this case is a red haired, unshaven, untidy man, sitting by the window reading in his stocking feet while his children play in the streets. Get a move on you!"

Now, wasn't that a silly dream?

POLLY of the CIRCUS

By MARGARET MAYO
Copyright, 1900, by Dodd, Mead and Company

Here is a circus romance redolent of the fresh sawdust of the ring, vibrant with the incessant clamor of the band, panoramic in its ever moving display of clowns, acrobats, horses and captive wild animals. You will read of Polly, the daughter of the circus, and of Bingo, on whose broad back she rode; of the "leap of death" girl; of "Mauver Jim," the boss canvasman, and Toby, the clown, who loved the circus orphan and cared for her like father and mother; of Deacon Strong, who hated a circus, and of Rev. John Douglas, who grew to love a circus girl. You will read of gossip that threatened to divide a pastor and his flock, of Ruth and Naomi, of a show girl's renunciation and of Polly's first and last ride on Barbarian, the circus horse.

This intensely interesting story will shortly begin in THE HERALD and you should subscribe now to get the opening chapters.

Where is Your Hair?

In your comb? Why so? Is not the head a much better place for it? Better keep what is left where it belongs! Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, quickly stops falling hair. There is not a particle of doubt about it. We speak very positively about this, for we know.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

Ayer's

Indeed, the one great leading feature of our new Hair Vigor may well be said to be this—it stops falling hair. Then it goes one step further—it aids nature in restoring the hair and scalp to a healthy condition. Ask for "the new kind."

DRINK WAINSCOTT'S ROXA KOLA

Roscoe Shackelford, of Wilhurst, was here over Sunday to see his family.

Daniel Henry, of Ezel, spent from Saturday until Monday with his parents.

John Brewer was here Monday trying to buy mares to haul a big lot of lumber.

Ed Doyle, of Portsmouth, Ohio, was a guest of the Day House, one day this week.

Billy Cecil and wife, of Grassy creek, visited Charley Cecil and family Tuesday.

J. Taylor Day left Sunday for Torrent, Winchester, Mt. Sterling and other points.

Rev. J. M. Little and wife spent Sunday with J. W. Taulbee and family, at Daysboro.

Charley Hurt, who is located at Torrent, came in Saturday to spend Sunday with his family.

Mr. Moore, superintendent of the Cumberland Pipe Line, was a guest of the Day House Tuesday.

Mrs. Charlie Sample and son, of Maytown, visited her parents, Hon. and Mrs. J. P. Rose, Monday.

Ruth Wills, of Maytown, came up Tuesday to see her grandfather, Uncle Jordan Wills, who is very ill.

Mort Wilson, of the Nickell fork, last week sold to James Halsey a 4-year-old horse mule for $100 cash.

Kelly Cox, who recently left here for Muskogee, Okla., is driving a laundry wagon at $10 per week.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. W. T. Caskey, who has been very sick for some time, is getting better.

A little two-year-old boy of Jack Salley's died Tuesday morning, after an illness of nearly a year, and was buried Tuesday evening.

Jethro Davis, who has been clerking in the J. T. Day store at this place, left Monday to assume a like position in the store at Torrent.

S. F. Reynolds, the harness man, is now running his shop at his residence, and says he will probably not remain here longer the first of August.

Miss Theo. Long and brother, of Paintsville, are visiting a brother, who is a student at the academy, and his wife, who is helping Mrs. Daniel.

Neola correspondence was last week misplaced, hence its failure to appear. However, come again, "Pet," and we will try to be more careful in the future.

Charley Rose drove a bunch of 50 cattle and 20 sheep into town yesterday that is sure hard to beat. The cattle are especially nice, all young and in fine shape.

The State Board of Equalization last week increased the assessed valuation of lands in Wolfe county 10 per cent, and Morgan county 10 per cent on all property.

The Ball Game.

The ball game here Saturday between Lee City and Hazel Green resulted in a victory for the visiting team, the score standing 14 to 12. It was one of the most interesting games that has been played on the Hazel Green diamond this year. It was the second Hazel Green team that played, and except for an error they had the victory won. The visiting team had some fine ball players, especially runners, and if they keep on improving they will give Hazel Green's first nine a show for their money before the season ends. Young Craig, captain of the team, is an enthusiastic, energetic player, and if he weeded out one or two and substitute a few he will have a fine team. Come again, boys, you are always welcome.

Shooting in The Calaboose.

William Trent, octogenarian, shot Abe Brown with a muzzle-loading gun Saturday, wounding him in the thigh with a load of slugs and buckshot. Through the farm of Trent a public passway had been open a long time, but Trent got out an injunction, had the road condemned and piled brush, etc., to stop travel. Brown, one of Trent's neighbors, regardless of the obstacles, endeavored to go through anyway and was removing some of the obstructions when Trent shot him. Brown is a man of family, and said to be a good citizen and neighbor, generally speaking. No account of Trent's arrest has reached us.

Wants It To Follow Him.

Dear Mr. Cooper and wife, Hazel Green, Ky.

As I have located in this town I will write you so you will know where I am. I now have a job with the same firm I worked for when I was here before at $3 per day and was offered $3.50, but the work is heavy. I have a good job, all fish work inside, so that beats H. G. This town is a nice place, has 18,000 people and has about 18 large factories. If I had not unpacked I would have gone further on, for after I had stopped a man sent for me at 50¢ per hour. If I am due a paper please send it to my present address. Yours respectfully, A. P. DYE, Middletown, Ohio. 521 Crane St.

The Hazel Green Fair.

J. Taylor Day, president, assures us that Hazel Green Fair will be held five days, beginning on Tuesday, Sept. 7th, and as an earnest of his intention he has ordered through THE HERALD a lot of illuminated printing to advertise the fair. Now, to help Mr. Day along with this enterprise, every public spirited citizen should take hold and push the good work along. Remember the good work that was accomplished for the country in holding the old fair. The country is now in better condition than ever for an enterprise of this kind and if all will take hold and push it along it is bound to be a success.

Help the Ladies.

The Cemetery Association beg leave to announce that they have had the new addition to the grounds plowed and sowed in grass and a fence erected. But the wire fence for the front will be put up Monday, the 17th inst, and they ask all the assistance they can get to erect the same. Don't forget, next Monday is the day, and your help will be appreciated.

Estill Clark, principal of the Cannel City Graded school, was here Friday and Saturday, and left for his home at Maytown. Prof. Clark has made a great success in handling the Cannel City school, and the directors of that institution should retain him for another year at least, be the price what it may.

Henry Pieratt, of Richmond, this week sent Aunt Jude Ward a fine red Jersey shote by express, with a letter announcing that it was a present. Henry has an eye to the inner man, as he gets his chuck at Aunt Jude's when in town, he likes to keep her in good humor.

Miss Florence Miller, of the Hazel Green faculty, attended the C. W. B. M. convention at Georgetown last week, leaving here Wednesday and returning Saturday.

Last week we noted that Ellis Johnson had bought of W. A. Bryant, of Lee City, a bay horse for $100. In fact he bought two of them, pretty well matched, for $200.

Dr Taylor Center reports the birth of a boy to the wife of Noah Patrick, of Daysboro, Saturday, May 1; to the wife of Granville Moore, of Stillwater, a boy, on the 6th inst.

President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania University, Lexington, visited Hazel Green Academy Tuesday and preached an interesting sermon at the Christian church that night.

WANTED—A woman to cook, wash and iron for three people—a good home and better wages than anybody in town pays, to one who will do the work all right. Apply at this office.

MRS. AMERICA NICKELL.

Wm. Freickman, a piano tuner of Cincinnati, came in Tuesday evening and is a guest of the Day House. He tuned Miss Daisy Day's piano and several others in town for individuals and one or two for the academy.

John Ward had a case of canned beef arrive at his home Tuesday evening last, which he had not ordered, but he says he will keep it just the same. His milk cow came in with a tomato can fastened upon one of her hoofs.

That very elegant lady and our good friend, Mrs. Belle Godsey, has placed the editor and his better seven-eighths under obligations for a few dozen spring onions and a mess or two of lettuce for which she has our thanks.

F. M. C. Donoyl, Louisville; J. W. Duncan, Lexington; W. H. Manker, West Liberty; M. E. Pennington and J. P. Eamie, London, were registered at the Day House Saturday and Sunday. Saturday the ball team from Lee City registered.

Jack Rittenhouse has contracted with the Hazel Green Oil & Gas Co., to pipe the gas from Patton's property on the hill to Rittenhouse Ranch, about 1,500 feet. He puts in his meter and is to pay 25¢ per 1000 feet for the gas. He also furnishes his own piping.

Nearly all of the male citizens of Hazel Green were summoned before the grand jury yesterday. In fact, all who signed Crook Coldiron's petition for a better road from Hazel Green to Helechawa, and all attended, as far as we know, except those who had a valid excuse.

GRAY JOHN

will make the season of 1909 at my barn, on the head of the Nickell Fork of Grassy, 1 mile north of Daysboro, on a part of the old Caleb Nickell farm, at $6 to insure living colt. Barren mares given special attention with impregnator. Money due when mare is parted with in any way or bred to another horse or jack, and lien retained on colt until season money is paid.

This Jack is 14-1-2 hands high, the best breeder in Morgan county, and is widely known as the K. M. Couch Gray Jack and needs no further description.

All care taken to prevent accidents, but not responsible should any occur.

Five Years

of Heart Trouble Cured by Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had pains in my left side, and under my shoulder blade, could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath the least exertion would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. When I had taken six bottles I was cured."

MRS. C. C. GORKEY, Northfield, Va.

If there is fluttering or palpitation it is an indication of a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the heart. It is not necessarily diseased—just weak from over-work. The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. You can make a weak heart strong by taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy. Get a bottle from your druggist, take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collated and Concisely Chronicled.

Wool growers in Ohio county have pooled their product for a higher price.

Clarence Cobb, a Jessamine county school teacher, died last week of ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating stale canned salmon.

Charles Finley, who was pardoned by Governor Willson for complicity in the Goebel murder, has returned to his home. He was greeted with a grand ovation by his friends.

A conservative estimate of the amount of damage done in Clark county during the recent storm is placed at $60,000, and this is not counting the crops washed away or damage to the land.

Col. Bennet H. Young, of Louisville, and S. A. Cunningham, of Nashville, Tenn., have purchased the birthplace of Jefferson Davis in Todd county for the D. A. C., as a memorial park.

Floyd Frazier, who cut Mrs. Ellen Flamer's throat with an old case knife in May, 1907, causing her death, was sentenced to be hanged at the recent term of Letcher Circuit court.

Miss Naunette Zumar, who recently died in Louisville, left her entire estate, valued at $2,500, to Cave Hill Cemetery Association for the caretaking of her grave and those of her parents.

Mrs. Samuel Green, of Mt. Sterling, fell down a flight of stairs breaking her leg and pulling her hip out of the socket. Owing to her advanced age, 67 years, fears are entertained for her recovery.

"Bill" Hatfield, after serving eleven years of a life sentence for a murder committed eighteen years previously in the noted Hatfield-McCoy feud in Pike county, was last week paroled by the prison commission.

In Lexington last week Will Hutch, colored, was held over to the grand jury in the sum of $200 for "maliciously striking and wounding with a deadly weapon known as a baseball bat," Kodes Brent, also colored.

Mathem Bynum and Willard Wylie shot and killed each other over family troubles near Dukedom, in Graves county. Wylie married Bynum's sister some time ago, causing trouble, which was renewed when the brothers-in-law met.

The storm of Friday night destroyed a most remarkable apple tree belonging to Wm. McAnespy. Mr. McAnespy says, to his own personal knowledge the tree has borne fruit for forty-two years. In all that period it never failed in any year to have an abundant crop and he has himself helped to pick the apples every year. One year the frost did manage to kill all the bloom but the tree would not be outdone and putting out new growth and new bloom, bore a crop of fine apples late in the fall.—Farmers cor. Morehead Mountaineer.

From Jackson, Breathitt county, down the Kentucky River, up the Ohio to Cincinnati, and from there to Quebec, Canada, then across the Atlantic Ocean to England, is a rather long and expensive route by which to ship timber, but it was made necessary in this case. The timber in question was white and burr oak, which is preferred for shipbuilding, hence the purchase so far from home. A cut of 150,000 cubic feet of this oak was cut from the forest along the Kentucky river, near Jackson. It was hewn square, thrown into the Kentucky river, and tied into rafts. From the mouth of the Kentucky, the tug D. T. Lane towed it to the wharves at Cincinnati. As fast as the rafts arrived they were cut up, the timber hauled up in freight cars and sent East. It will take about two hundred and fifty cars to move the entire consignment of timber from Cincinnati to Quebec. The timber varies in length from thirty to eighty feet.—Lexington Leader.

For Sale—Two of the Pieratt cottages for less than the lumber and lot can be bought. One acre in each lot; five rooms in each house. Apply at this office.

A Record Fleece.

We have a number of times advocated the feasibility and profit of raising Angora goats by the farmers in this section, and the following excerpt from the Hancock Clarion bears out the assertion of what profit is in them.

"W. R. Grant, of near Lewisport, is rapidly gaining a reputation as a breeder of fine goats, and as a result is making a high record in the sale of fleeces from same. A short time since he shipped to a New York firm the fleece from one of his Angora goats, raised in Hawesville, and received for the clip the neat sum of $4.34 as follows: One and one-half pounds at $1 per pound; 4 pounds at 50 cent per pound, and 8 pounds at 28 cents per pound, making a total of 81-2 a pound. This is certainly an excellent fleece and Mr. Grant would like to hear from anyone who has an animal whose fleece has netted as much money as this."
